FINANCE.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, September 17, 1868.

The money market was unchanged today in almost every respect. Currents, 1%, and short time rates, 2%. The rates of the demand and Cotton bills covering ten to fifty miles are presented and taken at 1% discount to par. Sterling and 30-day bills are 1% higher than yesterday. Bills in high demand and supply. Banking and dealing at 1% premium.

City bonds were steady to day. Several lots are on hand, and some, under favorable sales have taken place at that figure.—$2,000 were taken on Eastern account and shipped to-day.

Gold is now at $1,400 per ounce, and a small quantity of 100-ounce bars were offered at $100 above dollars at 14½%. All metals offered are mostly small, and in order to make a sufficient number of sales, we have had to bid up the price of gold, though no sale of consequence has been made. Brokers offer 14½%.

Selling at 14½%.

County Warrants are in demand with small offerings. Buying at 14½%.

Potash is still in demand. Selling again.
